The Foreign News.

With the exception of the fact that Lord Cowley had been on a special and conciliatory mission to the Austrian government, the news by the Arabia is not favorable to the prospect of prolonged peace. And even that act indicates the pressing emergency of the case, while the eagerness with which it is seized upon by the friends of peace, both in England and France, as a hopeful sign, shows how eminent has been the danger of war .-It still remains to be seen whether Lord Cowley's mission will be more successful than the previous efforts of the British government in the earnest representations they are known to have made to Austria. This may or may not be the case. The impression has prevailed and still prevails, in many European minds, that Austria, relying upon the support of the German states and the neutrality of England, and perhaps not aware originally that Sardinia would find such powerful allies as France and Russia, has for some time meditated an aggression upon Piedmont; and that her pride will prevent her from abandoning the project now that the Emperor of France has so openly taken part with Piedmont, unless France will first retire from the position she has taken. If such a view is correct, Lord Cowley's mission will probably be fruitless, for it is abundantly evident that Napoleon III. will make no concession, and after what has been said and done in France, coupled with the defiant tone of the King of Sardinia and his Cabinet, it seems scarcely probable that Austria herself will make any important concessions. Beyond this one event, we repeat, the tenor of the advices by the Arabia is rather in favor of war than of peace .- N. Y. Comm.

OR HONEY BLADE GRASS

BY SATURDAY EVENING'S MAILS.

Mr. Thomas at Prince William Court. After Mr. Smith and Mr. Shackeltord had spoken at Prince William Court, Major H. to deacon's order. W. Thomas, the Whig nominee, next appeared, and announced that he was the candidate of the Whig party for Congress. He presented the following as his platform: "A faithful administration of the government, with a view to the protection of the interests of the people, according to the provisions of the Constitution, without addition to or subtraction from those provisions. Encouragement, diversification, and tection of national industry. Facilitating commercial intercourse by improving harbors and rivers, as parts of great ational improvements.

Peace and union-progress and prosperity

-no more wars of conquest.

Offices and trusts to be filled for the common good, and not treated as spoils-the qualifications for them honesty and capacity. The respective States have exclusive control of their own institutions.

Limitation of patronage of the General Government, and economical expenditures. A curtailment of Executive power. The President to be the President of the nation, and not of a party."

In the course of Maj. T.'s remarks, he propounded the following questions to Gov. Smith, which, from the lateness of the hour, we presume, he failed to answer:

"Do you approve of the proposition made by the President, in his message, to give him control of the army and navy, to protect the fifty dollars, and the missionary fund the transit routes of Nicaragua, Panama, and Tehuautepec.

Do you approve of the proposition to give him a like control to establish a protectorate in the States of Chihuahua and Sonora, within the Territory of Mexico?

Do you approve of the suggestion to give him 20 millions to carry out these designs? Do you approve of the proposition to vest the President with the authority to negotiate a treaty, at the cost of 30 millions, for the acquisition of Cuba.

Do you approve of the recommendation of Mr. Buchanan, in his message to Congress in 1857-'58, to pass a bankrupt law, to be applied to the State incorporations, or banking institutions created by the States?

Do you agree with Mr. Buchanan that specific duties are the best, if not the only means of securing the revenue against talse and fraudulent invoices, and that the system is better than the ad valorem, because it affords to the American manufacturer the advantage which he is entitled under a revenue tariff?

Do you approve of the recommendation of the President to embark in internal improvements and to appropriate money for that most gigantic scheme, the Pacific Railroad?"-Prince William Dem.

LARCENY .- Mr. J. W. Mankin, of Arcola, Loudoun County, Va., who was on a business visit to this city, left his wagon in front of the Carpenter's Shop of Messrs, Mankin and Fadeley, on Friday night, and on going to it on Saturday morning, found two men sleeping in it, whom he drove away. A short time after he discovered that his coat, containing some very valuable papers, spectacles, gloves, &c., was gone, which he immediately commenced a search for. Giving it up however, as lost, he started for Loudoun, but upon reaching Catts' Tavern, West End. and making known his loss, was informed that two men had been there, sold the spectacles and silver case, for thirty-seven cents. and had just left, going towards town. Mr. M. returned to this city, and after looking a short while for the parties he had driven from the wagon, supposing they had committed the theft, saw two other men in charge of officer Warder and Padgett, one of whom had the coat on under his own, both having been arrested on the information of Mr. Mankin's brother living in this place; they also, it is supposed, had been in the wagon during the night. They were taken before Justice Price, and gave in their names as Hugh Gilbert and Henry Qullian. rom a vote, thus making a most degrading natives of Ireland, and after a hearing were committed to jail to await a further examination at the next term of the County Court.

The Model Farm, at Petersburg, (Virginia,) has, through all its various administrations, (first the lamented Nicol, next Mr. Turnbull, and now the present superintendent, Mr. Harris,) endorsed this manure as one of great value, and especially adapted for tobacco.
"The Southern Farmer," at Petersburg, in their issue of November 27th, notes the best sample of tobacco at the Virginia State Society's Exhibition last fall was grown by Dr. J. W. Hunt, of Nottoway county, with the application of Rhodes' Super The Hon, Wat, L. Goggin, of Bedford county, Virginia, in his abbress before the Lynchburg Agultural Society, endorsed this manure, and remarked "that it seemed to him that to secure a ve y large demand for this preparation was but for it to be known." The South Carolina Agricultural Society, at their annual Fair, held at Columbia 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th November, 1858, through their Committee on

Chemicals, Minerals, &c., reported:
"The committee would call the attention of the society to Rhodes' Super Phosphate of Lime. Ex-perience has proved it to be a valuable fertilizer— ghany Mining Company, recorded in the Office of said to be superior to Guano." "Your committee beg leave to say that they have discharged the duty assigned them fearlessly, faithfully, and to the best of their ability.

"John H. Boatwright, "John H. Maxwell, "Wh. F. Pratt." The Richmond "Enquirer," of December 2d, in noticing this Manure in an editorial of considerable eigth, says:

"We regard the subject of fertilizers so important to our farmers and planters that we do not intend to allow ourselves to be betrayed into a careless expression of opinion, and hence we have examined tween the said Companies, which can be seen by his (Rhodes') claim with care. We heartily recommend this fertilizer. It Tobacco, Wheat, Corn, and other Grains, and Vegetables, with like good results, and differing from inano in leaving the land in better heart."
